My Girl.

A little corner with its evils;
A little mug, a spoon, a bib,
A little tooth so pearly white
A little rubber ring to bite,
A little plate all lettered 'round,
A little rattle to resound,
A little creeping—See! She stands!
A little step 'twixt outstretched hands,
A little doll with flaxen hair,
A little willow rocking chair,
A little dress of richest hue,
A little pair of gaiters blue,
A little schoolday after way,
A little teacher to obey,
A little study—soon 'tis past,
A little graduate at last.
A little muff for winter weather,
A little jaunty hat and feather,
A little coat with great big pocket,
A little charm, a chain, a locket,
A little while to dance and bow,
A little escort homeward now,
A little party—somewhat late,
A little lingering at the gate,
A little walk in leafy June,
A little talk while shines the moon,
A little reference with papa,
A little planning with mama,
A little ceremony grave,
A little struggle to be brave,
A little cottage on a lawn,
A little kiss—my girl is gone!

TIME TO RENEW

JANUARY is the logical time to renew your subscription to THE INTELLIGENCER. As we are closing up our books for the year 1912 and are opening new books for 1913 every reader of this paper should send in his renewal without delay.

We are pleased to announce that we have made arrangements with the DAILY DROVERS TELEGRAM of Kansas City whereby you can secure this big modern daily newspaper in connection with THE INTELLIGENCER at a special rate. The Telegram publishes the general telegraphic news of the world on the day it happens. It is a fine family newspaper. Has a special woman's editor and a score of interesting features for all members of the family. Every farmer needs the daily reports of the markets on cattle, hogs, sheep, grain, hay, poultry and eggs which enable you to secure from 5 per cent to 20 per cent more cash for everything sold off the farm.

The regular subscription price of the DAILY DROVERS TELEGRAM is $4.00 a year. If you will send $4.00 to us you will secure both the TELEGRAM and our own paper both one year.

Brewster's Millions.

"Brewster's Millions," Winchell Smith's and Byron Ongley's stage version of George Barr McCutcheon's famous book, will be the attraction at Wright's Grand Monday January 13.

The play will be seen here with Walter Allen and a New York cast. This play ran for over a year in New York and during the summer months in Chicago. Frederick Thompson, of New York Hippodrome and Luna Park was the proprietor and manager of the attraction, and in it he has vested all his proverbial ingenuity and inventive genius in marvelously realistic illusions and effects.

The story of "Brewster's Millions" is old and unique, and delightfully blended with romance. If you suddenly inherited a million dollars, under conditions that you were to spend it within a year and to keep that condition secret, and that at the end of the year were not to have one possession to your credit that you had purchased during that period, do you think you could do it? It is a harder proposition than one would imagine. Think it over. That is what "Monty" Brewster did with "Brewster's Millions."

Mrs. J. G. Simpson of Kansas City arrived Monday evening to visit the family of Dr. Z. M. Williams.

S. N. Wilson went to Kansas City Tuesday on business.

A Live Wire.

Oswald Winkler, ex-mayor of Lexington, was in Wellington Thursday, looking after business interests and meeting old friends. Mr. Winkler is a booster for everything that comes up that will help his town and county, and the kind of a man that it is a pleasure to meet. He's a live wire in his home town and not afraid to stand in the open and fight for a better Lexington. If Lafayette county had a few more Oswald Winklers she would soon be placed on the map as one of the best counties in the state. —Wellington News.

Mrs. Kate Golden arrived Monday evening for a few days' visit with Mrs. Wm. Welsh.

Mrs. Prewitt Roberts returned Tuesday to Liberty. She was accompanied by her friend, Mrs. M. R. Reagan.

Earl Kemner of Kansas City, spent Sunday here with relatives. Charles Owen went to Kansas City Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Oscar Miles returned Sunday evening to her home in Kansas City after a few days' visit here with relatives.

Barred Rocks!

Get the old reliable, some fine cockerels at farmer's prices. They won't last long at the price I am asking.
